UPDATE: deadline extended to March 29, 2015.

The international communication and social graphic art contest Posterheroes has just launched its fifth edition. After facing the brief related to food intended as cultural and social topic, this year Posterheroes talks about the whole food chain in its broader aspect.

Environmental sustainability should also involve the entire food's life cycle and everyone who takes part in it. That includes food's production, transformation, conservation, transport and direct sell to the final consumer; making sure that every step is made without losing resources.

The consumer is the one who decides what to eat and consequently what the food system will have to produce. Hence we need to change our diet habits if we want to modify the entire system. The awareness of our personal food and nutritive choice will lead that change.

There are four categories:

• Production

• Transformation

• Distribution

• Disposal

The creative people around the world are therefore called to express their sensitivity and their ideas through the creation of a graphic poster 50x70 at 150dpi (2953x4134 pixels), max 5 MB, vertical layout, jpg or pdf format.

There is no entry fee.

Eligibility

There are no age, nationality or profession limits, the contest is open to all graphic designers, creative people, illustrators, social communicator, world-changers.
